American Eugenics From Long Island to Auschwitz

Lecture by Edwin Black, New York Times Bestselling Author

January 15, 2014 | 2:00 PM | FIU Modesto A. Maidique Campus | GC 243

Edwin Black is the award-winning, New York Times bestselling international investigative author of 120 award-winning editions in 14 languages, as well as scores of newspaper and magazine articles in the leading publications of the United States, Europe and Israel. With more than a million books in print, his work focuses on genocide and hate, corporate criminality and corruption, governmental misconduct, academic fraud, philanthropic abuse, oil addiction, alternative energy and historical investigation. Editors have submitted Black's work ten times for Pulitzer Prize nomination, and, in recent years, he has been the recipient of a series of top editorial awards. He has also contributed to a number of anthologies worldwide. Black has been interviewed on hundreds of network broadcasts from Oprah, the Today Show, CNN Wolf Blitzer Reports and NBC Dateline in the US, as well as the leading networks of Europe and Latin America. His works have been the subject of numerous documentaries, here and abroad. Many of his books have been optioned by Hollywood for film, with three in active production. In recent times he has appeared to speak, lecture or testify in three legislatures on social justice issues: U.S. House of Representatives, North Carolina General Assembly, and the European Parliament. Black is a leading contributor to The Cutting Edge News, which receives more than 1.5 million visits monthly, as well as the Huffington Post, the Times of Israel, and numerous other on-line publications. His weekly human rights and social justice TV show, The Edwin Black Show, broadcasts on IBC-TV.

This presentation is based on Mr. Black's book War Against the Weak: Eugenics and America's Campaign to Create a Master Race.

Co-sponsored by the Václav Havel Initiative for Human Rights and Diplomacy.
